

God's Promises

Scripture Memory Series

Week 19

"All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth, to such as keep His covenant and His testimonies."

Psalm 25:10

"The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord, and He delights in his way. Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down; for the Lord upholds him with His hand."

Psalm 37:23, 24

"I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go; I will guide you with My eye."

Psalm 32:8

Sonjia Hunt Ministries PO Box 21 Cleveland, TN 37364-0021 www.sonjahuntministries.com

*All Scriptures are from the New King James Version unless otherwise indicated.
(c) 1982 by Thomas Nelson, Inc. Used by permission. All rights reserved.*

Your Scripture memory verses for this week are on the front.

Speaking the Promises (continued)

6. Joins our faith with God's Word. And "faith is the substance [foundation] of things hoped for" (Hebrews 11:1).

When we speak God's Word aloud, as we His ambassadors on earth are privileged to do, God's power is released. Proclaim is a little stronger word than speak, and it historically referred most often to the official function of a herald who announced in the city square the proclamations of the ruling monarch. The herald spoke for the monarch. Every child of God has the privilege to proclaim God's Word. We can proclaim God's promises aloud in the privacy of our home or car. It doesn't have to be loud--just intentional and in faith. When we proclaim God's Word, we send forth the power of God's Word to rule on earth by decreeing God's will into the spiritual and natural realms, remembering this power is not of us but of God's Word.

SONJIA HUNT MINISTRIES PO BOX 21 CLEVELAND, TN 37364-0021